

Cultural Education (B.A.)

The degree programme qualifies graduates for scientifically based cultural education work and enables them to plan, organise, document and evaluate cultural education offerings for various target groups. Furthermore, they aim to develop methodically founded basic conditions and to enable students to critically reflect the work with the reference groups and institutions.

The modules focus on: media work, scientific references of cultural education, key qualifications, management and organisation and practical project work.

The key qualifications aim to deliver and promote research competences, learning strategies and social competences.