

HUGO BOSS

Our vision is to establish HUGO BOSS as the leading premium tech-driven fashion platform worldwide and to be one of the top 100 global brands. At HUGO BOSS, we work as a team to apply our knowledge, skills and experience together and create a diversity of ideas and solutions.

What unites us? We love fashion, we change fashion!

At HUGO BOSS, you have the opportunity to contribute your personality, ideas and creativity — because only when we break new ground together can we create something unique. Become part of our team of more than 19.000 employees worldwide and shape your future/drive your future/drive your growth, at HUGO BOSS!

Team Leader Production & Quality Management Beachwear, Hosiery and Nightwear

What you can expect:

HUGO BOSS Ticino SA, sited in Coldrerio Switzerland, masters the fashion flow for all the Brands of the product groups Shirt & Neckwear, Knitwear, Bodywear & Hosiery, Footwear, Accessories and Licenses.

We are currently seeking an experienced professional to assume a leadership role within our Bodywear & Hosiery Business Unit. This crucial position will be instrumental in upholding our quality standards for Beachwear, Hosiery, and Nightwear, and will be responsible for the following tasks:

- Lead and manage the Production Management & Quality team, focusing on Beachwear, Nightwear, and Hosiery product categories, Men and Women
- Ensure product quality adheres to company guidelines and targets, following Salesman Samples, Size set and bulk materials;
- Establish quality standards for workmanship in collaboration with Design/Product Development and the global producers network, ensure quality inspection standards are met, provide training and development for vendors, and oversee seasonal quality reporting;
- Contribute to global sourcing, re-development, and product reallocation in line with HUGO BOSS standards;
- Monitor production delivery from suppliers to the warehouse;
- Supervise trim and packaging developments and their evolution;
- Collaborate closely with internal teams (Design, Product Development, Operations) and the external network (HQ and global suppliers).

Your profile:

- Extensive experience in Quality and Production Management within international fashion companies, along with the ability to manage complex relationships with factories and fabric/trim suppliers;
- A background in Pattern Making and a specialization in Textile Engineering will be a plus, as will experience in Beachwear or Hosiery;
- Strong capability to work cross-functionally and build robust relationships between internal departments;
- Exceptional organizational skills and priority-setting abilities; adept at handling multiple projects simultaneously with appropriate timelines and flexibility;

- Proficient negotiation skills;
- Advanced proficiency in Microsoft Office and knowledge of PLM systems, Adobe as a plus;
- Availability to travel frequently to the global network and HQ.

Benefits:

- International, multilingual and inspirational working environment (digital and innovation focused);
- Company focus on welfare and alignment between work and personal life: Smart Working program and Time flexibility approach;
- Health and Safety constant support and Fitness space;
- Full relocation package for employees coming from abroad.

Fashion is a form of self-expression. With our products, we want to inspire individuality and encourage everyone to be their authentic selves.

HUGO BOSS is a global company with our employee's representative of the world at large. We believe in a diverse and inclusive workforce, and are committed to equal employment opportunity regardless of, but not limited to, age, citizenship, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, ethnicity, ancestry, religion, sex, marital status, or sexual orientation

Then you are the person we are looking for, please apply directly online: www.group.hugoboss.com