- Assist in performing rigorous physical and chemical testing in our Development Center and with external providers;
- Follow-up on the comprehensive vendor transparency dashboard, ensuring seamless data flow and effective implementation;
- Collaborate effectively with both internal and external stakeholders;
- Assist with video recording to conduct detailed analysis of workmanship.

Your profile:

- Background in textile engineering with a keen interest in shirts;
- Proficient in MS Office;
- Fluent in English, Italian and German as a plus;
- Proactive, curious, and eager to learn;
- Flexible and adaptable;
- Eligibility for an internship within one year of completing studies (including Master's) in compliance with Swiss law.

Benefits:

- International, multilingual and inspirational working environment (digital and innovation focused);
- Company focus on welfare and alignment between work and personal life: Smart Working program and Time flexibility approach;
- Health and Safety constant support and Fitness space;
- Full administrative support for employees coming from abroad.

Fashion is a form of self-expression. With our products, we want to inspire individuality and encourage everyone to be their authentic selves.
