

Reservation service offered by the university library

The university library offers a reservation service for books. You can reserve books that are on stock in the three library branches via DigiBib. After two business days the books are ready to be picked up in the respective library branch. After entering the library you will find the books that you ordered in a designated book shelf, ordered in numerical order according to the last four digits of your library ID. Take them from the shelf and check them out at the self checkout. Books that have not been picked up will be removed after ten business days.

1. Go to: <https://www.digibib.net/?LOCATION=829>
